The 130th annual Atlanta Labor Day celebration began Saturday night with a barbecue and ice cream and dessert social in the Couch Memorial City Park. A cool breeze blew through the park and over 100 people from Atlanta and the area as well as relatives and guests from out of state sat in lawn chairs visiting and greeting friends. Music provided by Wanda Dudgeon and her son J.D. Roudybush entertained the crowd.

Sunday morning, the community church service was attended by approximately 125 people. Prairie View UMC was in charge of the program which featured members of the area churches and also the chorus from Central High School. The Rev. John Paulin gave the sermon.

The heat on Monday did not seem to deter the crowd which gathered in Atlanta to watch the Labor Day parades and participate in the various activities including the sixth annual car show, horse-shoes, motorcycle contests, cake walk, inflatables, dunk tank and other events throughout the day.

The theme of the weekend was "Kids Are Our Future." The kids' parade had 28 registered entries in three classes with others riding bicycles but not registered. Winners in the class 4th grade & older division were: 1. Jeff Schmidt, future astronaut; 2. Emorie Sadowski, a snail; and 3. Tabitha Gallagher, space girl. Winners in the "K-through 3rd grade" category which had 12 entries: 1. Jazmyne Wonsler, spray rig driver; 2. Darren Underwood, jet pilot; 3. Anna Wolfe, American flag. Class 4- years & younger" winners were 1. Wade Hervey, future farmer; 2. Harley Cooper, Cabbage Patch Kid; 3. Ella Honkomp, future grandmother. All the participants received a prize donated by Rubbermaid.

The big parade was approximately one hour and 15 minutes long and followed the kiddy parade. There were 56 registered entries plus fire fighting vehicles from Atlanta and Cambridge and Leon and Latham in Butler county, horseback riders, Butler County Shrine vehicle, 4-wheelers and more. The Grand Marshall of the parade was Jean Yarborough, long-time Atlanta resident who was on the wagon driven by Broken Spoke Clydesdales from Winfield who also happens to be owned by her grandson, Mark DeCourdes.

Prizes were awarded to the various classes as follows: Tractor category, 1. Grant Hervey, Atlanta; 2. Cameron Biby, Winfield; 3. David Topper, Atlanta. In the Classic and Antique Car category, 1. Carrol McHenry, El Dorado; 2. Marilyn Hahn, Atlanta; 3. Merlin Dorrell, El Dorado. There were eight floats entered: 1. Central Wrestling Club; 2. Gracepointe Assembly of God, Winfield; 3. Larry Womacks, Atlanta.

In the Novelty category, Dennis King, Atlanta received 1st; Barret & Pirtle, Leon, 2nd and Pirtle Farms, Leon, 3rd.

Nine motorcycles registered and winners there were: 1. Praise Riders-Jerry Stover, Winfield; 2. Morgan Whiteman, Burden; 3. Dave Thomas, Atlanta.

There were several groups of horses divided into different categories. Horse Mounted Under 18 winners were 1. Haven Wunderlich, Atlanta; 2. Paxton Burtton, and 3. Jay C. Burrton, both from Butler County Saddle Club. Horse Mounted 18 & Up winners were 1. Brian Nelson, Winfield; 2. Pat Doyle, Douglass and 3. Allison Oliver, Wichita. Saddle clubs were the final horse category and winning was 1. Winfield Saddle Club, 2. Butler County Saddle Club.

"We had a great weekend," commented Carolyn Wilson, general chairperson. "Everyone pitched in and helped each day. Without the volunteers, who came not only from Atlanta but other area towns as well, we couldn't have had the wonderful activities, BBQ, parades, games and all that went into making this so successful. I also want to thank those businesses and individuals who donated gifts and door prizes."

The official holiday celebration ended Monday with the traditional free ham and bean feed at 5 p.m.
